

Tiger

This is a tiger. A tiger is a mammal as it has lungs, is warm blooded, gives birth to tiger cubs and is covered in fur. A tiger has razor-sharp teeth to help it to eat meat as they are carnivores. Their fur is stripy to help them camouflage so they can catch their pray. Tigers also have incredible eyesight. They have large pupils so they can see clearly in they day time. At night they can see six times more clearly than humans. This is why they often hunt for prey at night.